

TX.5 Forms & Documents Index

Every named form a Texas owner-builder is likely to meet — what each one is, when it is needed, and which office it comes from.

Before you use this document

This is a process reference, not legal advice. Texas has no single permit counter: each city administers its own permits and code editions, county programs vary, and several state agencies each own one piece of the picture. Confirm every item with the office that will actually issue it before you rely on it. Texas scatters its forms across state agencies, counties, and cities; the named forms below are verified, but your county's and city's packets are their own.

Named forms and documents a Texas owner-builder will encounter

Document	What it is and when you need it	Where it comes from
TDI Form WPI-1 — Application for Certificate of Compliance	The windstorm pre-construction notice: written notice of intent to construct, " before the person begins to construct ," for any structure seeking TWIA-eligible certification in the coastal catastrophe area. When: before ground breaks — late is the one thing this form cannot be.	TDI, tdi.texas.gov/wind
TDI WPI-8 / WPI-8-E — Certificate of Compliance	The certificate at the end of the windstorm process — engineer route or TDI-appointed qualified-inspector route — and the document TWIA treats as evidence of insurability. Certificates are searchable on TDI's site. (A WPI-3 appears in older materials; verify at tdi.texas.gov/wind before relying on it as a live form.)	Issued by TDI after the phase inspections
TCEQ Form 0235 — OSSF Permit Application	The septic application where TCEQ itself is the permitting authority — most counties are their own authorized agent and publish their own packet instead (Comal County's Engineer's Office packet is a verified example). When: before construction; the site evaluation comes first.	TCEQ (tceq.texas.gov) or your county's authorized agent
ESL builder self-certification form (Texas Building Energy Code Compliance)	The § 388.004(a)(3) route: for a house outside any city, the builder certifies energy-code compliance on the Energy Systems Laboratory's form, enumerating the code-compliance features. When: at completion — then keep the original three years and give the owner a copy (§ 388.004(b)).	Energy Systems Laboratory, esl.tamu.edu

TxDOT Form 1058 — Permit to Construct Access Driveway Facilities on Highway Right of Way	Required before constructing a driveway onto a state-system highway (FM roads included). Filed with the local TxDOT district/area office; no work in the right of way until the executed permit is in hand, with 24-hour notice to TxDOT. District-specific requirement sheets exist.	TxDOT district / area office
County floodplain development permit	Every NFIP county has one; the name varies ("Development Permit," "Floodplain Development Permit"). Montgomery County's residential development permit — structure and non-structure versions — is the verified example, and it applies even outside the floodplain there. When: before construction, if any part of the site is in an SFHA (or countywide where so ordered).	County floodplain administrator (Montgomery: mctx.org)
Houston Form CE1284 — Homeowner's Plumbing and Irrigation System Permit Application	Houston's owner path for plumbing: the homeowner may pull the permit and do the work on a residence they "own, occupy, and have ... registered as their homestead." Remember the contrast: Houston has no homeowner path for electrical.	Houston Permitting Center, houstonpermittin gcenter.org
Fort Worth Homestead Permit Affidavit	The homeowner certifies they own and live at the address and will personally perform the work under a specific permit — published in mechanical and plumbing versions by Development Services.	City of Fort Worth, fortworthtexas.gov
San Antonio Residential Building Permit Application + homeowner's permit attestation	The city's residential application (2025 form), plus the homeowner's-permit route: attest that you own and will occupy or rent the residence for 12 months after completion, and take responsibility for all inspections.	San Antonio DSD — sa.gov; forms at docsonline.sanantonio.gov
Your subcontract — the homestead lien "form"	Not a government form at all, and more important than most that are: to fix a lien on a homestead the contract must be written, executed before material or labor, signed by both spouses if married, and filed with the county clerk (Property Code § 53.254). Good subs will insist; treat one who will not as a warning.	You write it — see TX.2's lien section

TDLR electrical exemption — deliberately NOT a form	There is no TDLR form for the homeowner electrical exemption; it is self-executing in the statute. What you print instead — for a doubting county official or utility — is TDLR's own exemptions page, and (for a new build) TDLR's written answer to the owns-and-resides question from TX.1.	tdlr.texas.gov/electricians/exemptions.htm

Forms that do not exist — stop looking for them

There is no state owner-builder affidavit (no state permit exists to attach one to), no county building-permit application for a single-family house, no certificate of occupancy in unincorporated areas, and no TDLR exemption form. When a lender or insurer asks for "the permit" on a Track B build, what you hand them instead is this kit's stack: the OSSF permit, the floodplain permit, the energy certification, the meter release — and, coastal, the WPI-8.

TCEQ Form 0235 and the authorized-agent structure — tceq.texas.gov; Comal County packet, comalcounty.gov.
